DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 2 to 5, drawn to a pump having an exclusionary plate, classified in class 417, subclass 423.11.
- II. Claims 6 and 7, drawn to a pump having a volute with an exit flare and baffle, classified in class 415, subclass 204.
- III. Claims 8 and 9, drawn to a pump wherein the cover and vane faces are parallel, classified in class 415, subclass 224.5.
- IV. Claims 10 to 13, drawn to a pump having a filling port, classified in class 415, subclass 56.1.
- V. Claims 14 and 27, drawn to a pump having a carrying handle, classified in class 417, subclass 234.
- VI. Claims 17 to 22 and 30 to 33, drawn to a pump having a motor cooling fan, classified in class 310, subclass 62.
- VII. Claims 25 and 26, drawn to a pump wherein the motor housing has ribs, classified in class 310, subclass 273.
- VIII. Claims 34 to 37, drawn to a pump wherein the motor has brushes, classified in class 310, subclass 239.
- IX. Claim 40, drawn to a pump wherein the motor housing cover has a switch opening, classified in class 310, subclass 68A.

Art Unit: 3746

- X. Claim 41, drawn to a pump wherein the motor housing cover has a cord opening, classified in class 310, subclass 273.
- XI. Claims 42 and 43, drawn to a pump wherein the motor housing cover has ribs, classified in class 310, subclass 273.
- XII. Claim 47, drawn to a pump wherein the motor housing has a taper, classified in class 310, subclass 273.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I through XI are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility because it can be used without a volute having an exit flare and a baffle, without parallel cover and impeller faces, without a filling port, without a handle, without a motor cooling fan, without housing ribs, without brushes, without a switch opening in the end cover, without a cord opening in the end cover, without ribs on the end cover, and without a housing taper. Each of the other inventions likewise does not require the features of any of the remaining inventions for its operation. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification and their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Claims 1, 15, 16, 23, 24, 28, 29, 38, 39, 44, 45 and 46 link the inventions and will be examined with the claims of the elected invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

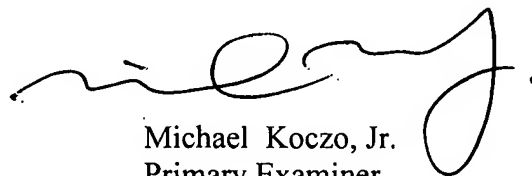

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
